LOS ANGELES, CA (April 9, 2024) - Hitmaking Mexican Music act Fuerza Regida announces their 2024 "Pero No Te Enamores Tour," nationwide headlining tour. Fronted by Jesús Ortiz Paz, the San Bernardino-native group has taken Mexico by storm and made an impact on the American charts, and now fans across the country will have a chance to see their powerhouse live performance on their "Pero No Te Enamores Tour," their next headlining trek hitting arenas this summer.

In celebration of the news, this morning, the 5-man group saluted their hometown fans with a special mural in their native San Bernardino, CA, displaying the tour artwork in the center of the city. Produced by Live Nation and kicking off in June, the "Pero No Te Enamores Tour" takes the group across the United States, including their only New York Metro area performance at UBS Arena in Belmont Park, NY, located 30 minutes from Penn Station or Grand Central via LIRR, on August 4.

Fuerza's upcoming nationwide tour is their latest step on the road to world domination, following a 2023 full of new commercial heights and well-deserved accolades. The group shared their biggest album to date, Pa Las Baby's Y Belikeada, which peaked at #2 on Billboard's Latin Albums chart and reached the Top 15 of the Billboard 200. The album generated billions of streams across platforms, led by hits like "TQM" (peaked at #34 at the Billboard Hot 100), "Sabor Fresa" (#26 on the Hot 100), and "HARLEY QUINN" (#40 on the Hot 100), their collaboration with Marshmello that became their first-ever #1 hit on the Latin Airplay chart. The success of Pa Las Baby's Y Belikeada propelled Fuerza Regida to two Billboard Music Awards in 2023, plus the #1 spot on Billboard's Top Duo/Group year-end artist chart.
