Mexican music icon Marco Antonio Solís announces the arrival of his acclaimed "Eternamente Agradecido World Tour" to the United States this summer. The highly-anticipated show will tour cities across North America, including UBS Arena in Belmont Park, NY, on October 18, where "El Buki" will delight fans of all ages.

With the 'Eternamente Agradecido World Tour,' Marco Antonio Solís is embarking on a mission to reciprocate the love he's received over his illustrious four-decade career. This unique tour will bring his unmatched talent and musical enchantment to cities he's never visited before, offering fans a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to experience his music live. The tour will commence on August 9 in Portland, Oregon.

Marco Antonio Solís is set to make history as the first Latin artist to grace the stage of the Intuit Dome in Los Angeles. This monumental event, scheduled for August 18, will mark the venue's opening weekend with a bang.

Marco Antonio Solís continues to be unstoppable in 2024, where he made multiple presentations in Mexico earlier this year. In addition, the artist kicked off his Las Vegas residency with Los Bukis, making Latin music history as the first all-Spanish residency on the famous Las Vegas Strip.

Originally from Michoacán, Marco Antonio Solís, better known as "El Buki", has captured the hearts of millions with his hits such as "Si No Te Hubieras Ido", "Más Que Tu Amigo", "Mi Eterno Amor Secreto", among many others. His prolific career includes more than 300 songs of his authorship, some of which have been performed by a variety of great artists. He has been recognized with numerous awards, including the prestigious title of Person of the Year from the Latin Recording Academy in 2022 and the Lifetime Achievement Award from Billboard Latin Music Awards in 2005, consolidating his position as an undisputed reference in Latin music.
